Analysis

Background

At its February 2025 meeting, the Commission approved a proposal for a reorganization of the Sonoma Valley Fire Protection District involving annexation of territory served by the Kenwood Fire Protection District and set a protest period that concludes on April 2, 2025.

Staff requests that the Commission conduct a public hearing to receive any testimony from interested parties and, most importantly, to collect any written protests of the reorganization from registered voters or landowners within the reorganization area.

Discussion

In accordance with the provisions of state law, notices of the protest proceeding were mailed to owners of land residing within the reorganization area. In addition, notice of the protest proceeding was published in the Press-Democrat, and posted on the Commission's website.

Staff has received 43 landowner protests and 28 voter protest as of March 26, 2025, and anticipates that there will not be sufficient protests to warrant verification of either landowner or registered voter petitions.

As a result, the Commission's order of the reorganization will stand. A draft resolution has been prepared (attached) for the Commission's consideration.

If, however, written protests are delivered to LAFCO prior to the close of the public hearing such that the thresholds listed in state law are reached (25 percent or more of registered voters or 25 percent or more of landowners owning 25 percent or more of the assessed land value within the affected territory), staff would recommend that the Commission seek validation of the protests through the Sonoma County Registrar of Voters and/or the Sonoma County Assessor.

Recommendation

Staff recommends that the Commission conduct a public hearing to receive testimony regarding protests of the Commission's approval to annex the Kenwood Fire Protection District territory to the Sonoma Valley Fire District. Registered voters and landowners within the detachment area may file written protest petitions prior to the close of the hearing.

If, as expected, the written protests do not approach the thresholds enumerated in state law, staff recommends that the Commission adopt the attached resolution.

If it appears that written protest petitions may be sufficient to meet the thresholds, staff recommends that the Commission direct staff to undertake activities to determine the validity of petitions.
